

國立陽明交通大學
NATIONAL YANG MING CHIAO TUNG UNIVERSITY

Inviting applications for the Director of the Institute of Microbiology and Immunology, College of Life Sciences at National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University, Taipei, Taiwan

About us

Join us at the Institute of Microbiology and Immunology, NYCU, a prestigious research organization that aims to advance our fundamental understanding of microbiology and immunology and to educate the next generation of scientists. The institute was founded in 1977 and currently hosts over eighty graduate students. The Director will lead a dynamic and growing faculty and is expected to assume the position by June 2025.

Qualifications

We seek candidates who meet the following qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in microbiology, immunology, or related biomedical fields
2. Full/associate professorship or equivalent credentials
3. Extensive teaching and research experiences in biomedical research fields, preferably in microbiology or immunology
4. Strong interpersonal and collaborative skills, managerial experience, and demonstrated leadership

Application

Applicant should submit the following documents to the Search Committee for the Director (hffan@nycu.edu.tw) by December 31, 2024.

1. CV
2. List of publications
3. Name and contact information of at least two referees
4. A short statement depicting the applicant's vision for the institute